

Would you like to use our application Rx Vigilance Mobile for an entire year for free?

Vigilance Santé offers promotional codes to pharmacists who cooperate to our drug pictures database project. These codes allow the download and use of our application Rx Vigilance Mobile (on iPhone, iPad and iPod) for an entire year.

A drug pictures database

Vigilance Santé is always striving to expand its pharmacists tools set. We are currently building a drug pictures database to cover most of the products currently available on the market. In order to do so, we need pharmacists to welcome one or two pharmacy technicians for a photo shooting in their pharmacy.

For the photo shooting session, we need a small work-space near the laboratory. We bring the required equipment in and out. We take pictures of pills as well as their packaging (bottles, boxes, etc.) Ideally, we need to open the packages to be able to shoot the pills themselves, but sealed packages are never opened without getting permission first.

How do we proceed?

We go through the lab with a bar-code scanner to identify products for which we do not already have pictures. We take a few to our work station at a time to take the pictures, and return them back to their original location. Our technicians are discreet, wear gloves and handle all products carefully.

We typically need one to two days to go through a pharmacy laboratory. We offer flexible hours, day or evening, to best suit local needs.
